

Ceramic Vase "Foam Beneath The Moon"

"Foam Beneath the Moon"

A sculptural moon jar that feels born of earth and fire—its cratered surface and flowing textures echo ancient stone, coral, and ash. Soft off-white tones and eruptions of molten glaze give the vessel a quiet yet wild presence. This piece holds no symmetry, only rhythm—an elemental form shaped by time, tension, and stillness. A true focal point, it invites both contemplation and touch.
