Ash Collection | Console

As a continuation of the Ash Collection, STACKLAB introduces a console made exclusively from Ontario's diseased Ashwood. Drawing from the collection's signature base geometry, this table features tops shaped from joined ash-wood boards, a design choice that diverts fallen trees from landfills and minimizes waste. In alignment with the core collection's sustainability principles, all materials are sourced and the product is manufactured within a 150-mile radius of the STACKLAB studio, underscoring the brand's commitment to local craftsmanship and reduced environmental impact.
